Wesley Joins State Schools

Herald Education
Reporter

Pupils at Wesley College yesterday learned that their school was at long last integrated into the state education system.

Wesley College has been negotiating for integration since 1973.

It is the first integration agreement under the new Private Schools Conditional Integration Act and it was signed yesterday by the Minister of Education, Mr Gandar, and representatives of Wesley College.

Mr Gandar said it was the beginning of a new partnership that not only assured the future of the college but brought a new dimension to the state system.

Initiative

He hoped the initiative taken by the college would lead other private schools to explore in some depth whether integration would suit their particular purposes.

The principal of Wesley College, Mr J. B. McDougall, said the college had been conscious that it must proceed cautiously to set a precedent which would not adversely affect the integration of other schools. Negotiations on the agreement had taken most of this year.

Mr McDougall

The school had started in 1844 on land in Grafton Rd given to it by the Government, he said. This union between the church and state came full circle yesterday.

The school bought its present site at Paerata and shifted there in 1924. Under the new agreement the Wesley College Trust Board would own the site and buildings. It would be responsible for any improvements, enlargement or replacement of the buildings and it would own and run the boarding hostel.

The state would pay for the teachers' salaries and maintenance on all teaching buildings after they had been brought up to state standards. Integration was expected to cost the state $200,000 next year.

Pledge

The college had pledged to accomplish the major part of this task by February 1, 1977 and it had three years to complete the minor alterations.

"In our case upgrading is not a major item," he said. "It will be the normal maintenance cost we would have faced anyway."

The school would charge a boarding fee next year, he said, of $300 a term and an attendance due of $60 a term. The total fees had been $1500 this year.

The attendance dues would be used to pay for upgrading the school and for future capital works and maintenance.

A board of governors would administer the day school. It would consist of five elected parents' representatives, four members of the trust board, one teachers' representative and one member would be nominated by the Auckland Education Board.

All teaching staff had been guaranteed positions in the school on an equal footing with state teachers.

Special Character

The hardest part of integration, he said, was defining the special character of the school which would be protected. It was a Christian, multiracial boarding school.

This meant the school would provide religious education, it would like non-Europeans to make up between 33 and 40 per cent of the roll, and 80 per cent of the scholars would be boarders.

The maximum roll of the school would be 275 with 220 boarders, but it could grow to 350 if the Department of Education, the Board of Governors and the Wesley College Trust Board agreed.

Integration had removed a great burden from parents, he said. Previously boarding and tuition fees had become so high that the trust was having difficulty helping needy Maoris, Pacific Islanders and Europeans for whom the school catered.

For the first time, as far as he knew, Mr McDougall said, the school was turning away boys enrolled on the waiting list. Between 50 and 60 had been affected. Usually about 80 boys left each year. This year only 45 boys had left.

As we look back on our historical first year as a Conditionally Integrated school there must be cause for satisfaction. The special character of the College has not changed, a full roll has been maintained, there is a new found confidence and an air of prosperity. Almost all the upgrading of the classrooms required by the agreement has been completed, while the Trust Board have continued with many improvements to the Hostel. The new tar sealed entry road is a practical asset while the technical block and new sports field are shaping well. There is an excellent relationship between the Trust Board and Board of Governors while the support from the Educational Department has been first class. Integration may not be the answer for all Private schools, but for Wesley there is no doubt the correct decision was made, and we can look to the future with gratitude and renewed spirit.

In his magazine editorial in 1974, Seventh Former, Simon Fordyce wrote: "1974 has, throughout the world, been a year of change - a year in which liberal attitudes and philosophies have been disseminated and widely applauded.

It is unfortunate and well known that the record of Wesley College students at university, in the past, has been mediocre - in spite of well above average passes gained by the school in the University Entrance and Bursary examinations. The answer to the problem isn't hard to find; college life has been too organised from above, students were too used to doing things according to rules and bells so that when confronted with the virtual complete freedom of university life, they have become disorientated."

It is with satisfaction that we can report that the 1976 University results showed that our first year students passed 93% of their subjects. The gradual change to more relaxed conditions for seniors has bridged the step to 'Varsity without the failures experienced in the past. However trust carries responsibility and too many of our 5th and 6th formers take advantage of the new conditions without realising the self discipline and maturity needed to accept privileges. Let us hope that our future senior students will accept the challenge and show increased responsibility. To return to enforced disciplinary measures for seniors would be a backward step in the family spirit of Wesley College.

John McDougall

HENRY HARTRIDGE

This year Wesley loses another stalwart with the retirement of Mr Henry Hartridge. Henry first worked at the College in 1937. His employment was interrupted by his war service, but he returned to the school in the 1950's to fill numerous roles. These have included vegetable gardener, poultry manager, orchardist and groundsman, but Henry's real love has been his flower gardens. He has always taken pride in producing displays to coincide with special occasions and this year's blooms are no exception. Henry has always been an ardent supporter of the College and his constructive criticisms have been well meant.

All the College wish him well in his retirement. His delightful cottage at Paerata should serve him well, while we know he will continue enjoying his support of Counties rugby and, we hope, the First XV at Wesley.

HONOUR FOR BOARD MEMBER

WINS MBE FOR SERVICES

A man

known to 1000's of Auckland Grammar boys, has been made a member of the civil division of the British Empire.

Mr Charles Norman Nicholls (73) of Howick, was given the MBE for his serves to education and the community.

In 1924 Mr Nicholls became a mathematics master at Auckland Grammar School. He taught there until 1972, which he says is a Grammar record — "49 enjoyable years."

Mr Nicholls has been very interested in the education of the Maori and Polynesian student. He has been on the Wesley College trust board for 33 years now and is still an active member.

Mr Nicholls was a champion walker and has always had a great interest in sport. He coached football and athletics for 45 years. Mr Nicholls is a life member of the Auckland Inter-Secondary Schools Athletics Sports Association and the founder, a former president and coach of the Howick Amateur Athletics Club.

Mr Nicholls is a life member of the Auckland

Chrysanthemum and Dahlia Society and has been president of the National Chrysanthemum Society of N.Z.

"When I first came to Howick 33 years ago, there were only 800 people living here," says Mr Nicholls. "The closest doctor was in Otahuhu and there were about half a dozen shops in the village. It's a bit different today."

Mr Nicholls is a life member of the Howick Horticultural and Beautifying Society. He has been very involved in the beautifying of Howick and the acquisition of parks and reserves.

HOUSE NOTES

STANTON HOUSE REPORT - 1977

House Masters: P.A. Burt, L. Ducker, W. Turuwhenua

House Captain: W. Royal

House Prefects: L. Jenkins, R. Wynstok, G. Gale, P. Beech

Squad Leaders: P. Barclay, A. Croydon, M. Jacobs, P. Riddell,
M. Otone, M. Rudolph, R. Kruse, C. Burt.

At the time of writing, Stanton House morale is extremely high as it has the lead in the points tally for the Winstone Cup.

In the swimming, Stanton showed the rest of the school, the potential they had by winning both Tabloids and Championship events mainly due to 100% participation.

The Athletics saw fine performances by the house and again full participation and consistency were responsible for the house's first placing.

The second term featured choral, cross country, tennis, table tennis and badminton competitions in which Stanton proved dominant due to sound individual and group performances.

On paper Stanton looked the superior team, but due to unfortunate circumstances of having Ali's disease we had to settle with an overall second.

It is customary when writing such a report to get carried away with thanking the masters but we, the house would sincerely like to thank Willy Royal whose outstanding leadership over the past two years has combined the house's qualities to break Winstones supremacy and put Stanton in it's rightful place.

R. Wynstok, L. Jenkins

WINSTONE HOUSE REPORT

"Once you have reached the top there's no place left but down", a statement popularised by Sir Edmund Hillary.

Winstone House, under the watchful eye of our five school prefects and house masters, painfully had to watch the Winstone Cup slip from our grasp in the last vital stages of the house competition.

For the last six years Winstone have held the coveted Winstone Cup. Ever since our creation as a house we have never finished lower than second. This year 2nd will again be our placing.

Again this year, Winstone house were privileged enough to have the Head-boy, dux and senior sports champion amongst their ranks, in Tem Morrison, Brett Houston and Michael Dolbear respectively.

We excelled in both sports and academy. Having eight members of the 1st XV we were favourites to win the rugby but could not hold Stanton in the final game to win.

Credit must be given to Stanton house for being in such a strong position at this stage of the year and it appears Winstone's strangle hold on the House competition is finally broken.

Academically we have excelled. We have three-quarters of the 7th form as well as the dux. We've excellent prospects in the 5th form as well as the lower school. Having this wide-spread intelligence enabled Winstone to win the Academic competition in the first and second terms. Under the new leadership of Mr Law a new type of house developed almost succeeding in retaining the Winstone Cup for us. The house was run successfully by the six house leaders and eight squad leaders and although we have been unable to hold the House trophy it must be remembered that Winstone House's motto is, "We may lose, but we are never beaten."

To conclude, congratulations to Stanton for the outstanding effort in winning the house competition. Well, you had to be good to beat us.

SIMMONDS HOUSE

House Masters: Mr Teasdale, Mr Sargent, Mr Chessum

House Captain: Lance King

House Prefects: S. Singh, B. McLean, A. Church, J. Bali

A spirit which has not been apparent in recent years has been rejuvenated this year. Under the guidance of Mr Teasdale and the leadership of Lance King, Simmonds has been prominent in most of this year's activities.

After last year's dismal placing, Simmonds entered the swimming Championships with a feeling of apprehension towards the outcome. Unfortunately the grades were not consistent enough and we didn't finish at the top. Among those to excel were W. Terry and S. Wylie, the latter becoming the Intermediate swimming champion.

Athletics was next on the list of events. After finishing second in the tabloid rounds, we entered the championships with a great deal of optimism and did actually finish with the most points! Apparently, an easy win for Simmonds, but when the points were split into sections, our Minors and Juniors did so well that they were easily first. But our Intermediates and to some extent the Seniors did not measure up and we finished second overall. N. Downs and P. Ropata were minor and junior champions respectively, while Jr. Toso and T. Hala'api'api were prominent in their grades. An honour for the house was when Lance King competed in the Manakau Secondary School Championships and gained a third place in the senior 100 metres finals. Furthermore, two of our members, L. King and T. Hala'api'api were the backbone of the Wesley relay team (4x100) which also finished 3rd.

In the Tennis again Simmonds dominated the Minor, with both finalists from Simmonds. R. Valler emerged champion. The Speech Contest was contested and won with J. Hill winning the Junior grade, S. Singh winning the Senior grade and C. Perese runner-up in the seniors. Badminton and Table Tennis were next on the sporting calendar, where Simmonds strived and were reasonably successful with T. Hala'api'api and D. Booth runners-up in the Seniors and Minors respectively. Badminton was competed for successfully with R. Valler being Minor Champion and S. Singh and D. Edwardson being runners-up in the Seniors and Minors respectively. The Choral contest was contested and we finished second. Thanks to A. Tumai for his fine effort in this respect.

Winter sports provided the highlight of the year's activities for Simmonds, winning the rugby overall. We were very unlucky in the Hockey and with one game to go in soccer we have a good chance of winning it overall.

The jobs of the house leaders: L. King, S. Singh, B. McLean, A. Church and J. Bali have been made a lot easier with the co.operation of the entire house. The house would like to express it's gratitude to the House Masters - Mr Teasdale, Mr Sargent and Mr Chessum for their untiring support which has made this year a successful one for Simmonds. And last but not the least, we house leaders would like to thank you - THE HOUSE.

B. McLean & S. Singh

SCHOOL HOUSE

House Captain:	I. Thompson
Deputy Captain:	G. Watene
Squad Leaders:	N. Riini, C. Watene, S. Tregoweth, D. Laird R. Gabb, A. Ryan

This year the house has not been able to maintain its usual high standard on the sports field and in the class room. But all houses have their ups and downs and at the moment School House, like the country, is going through a recession. We did have some minor success but this was not to any great advantage.

My special thanks to G. and C. Watene for their assistance and I thank them for taking control when I was absent. Also I thank our three House Masters for their assistance and leadership.

Finally, I would like to wish the house every possible success in the Winstone Cup back where it belongs.

I. Thompson

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

CHAPEL REPORT

One strange experience for new boys is having to go to Chapel each weekday morning and also Sunday mornings and evenings. With more boys this year we have purchased more hymn books, and the new books improve the appearance. We welcome many visitors to the Chapel for services, and thank them for donations. Visiting preachers this year included Mr C.A. Neate of Pukekohe High School, Mr J. Palmer, a teacher at P.H.S., the Rev. G.R. Bennett, Rev. J. Hall, Mr M.L. Scott, Mr Kilford, and our own French teacher, Mr Fordyce. We also thank our Chaplain, the Rev. W.A. Chessum for all opportunities to learn about and express our Christian faith.

Chapel monitors this year have been D. Booth, L. Eveleigh, G. Glendenning, S. Hetherington, R. Kruse, M. Lewis, R. McInnes, C. Parkes, D. Scarborough and R. Sides.

In 1976 three Wesley boys confirmed in a combined service at St. Andrews (Anglican) in Pukekohe were Tim Lane, Paul Ambler and Edward Mareroa. This year the combined service was in our own Chapel on October 30th when special guests were the Rev. E.D. Grounds, Chairman of the Auckland Methodist Synod, and Bishop Spence of the Anglican Diocese. Boys confirmed were R. Allen, S. Benjamin, B. Blair B. Collinson, A. Hale, M. Hale, P. Harpur, W. Horton, A. Saunders, and C. Storey.

Bible Classes for Forms 1 and 2 have been taken by Mr Sealby, and for Form 3 by Mr Fordyce. Mr Chessum has taken Communicants Classes (preparing for reception of Holy Communion) Confirmation Class, and a Members Class for people already confirmed and for Chapel monitors.

THIRD FORM BIBLE CLASS

During the past year, the Third Form Bible Class has had a satisfactory year watching films and reading the fiction works of C.S. Lewis. This may seem a strange activity for a Bible Class but, as Lewis himself said: "You are still eating bread even when you call it toast"; and, as any Aslan fan will tell you, the apparently childish stories written by this great professor of English, are really very profound stories indeed. Narnia, the land where is is always winter, is really our own godless world in disguise, and Aslan the great Lion who dies and rises again from the dead is so obviously the Christ.

Incidentally C.S. Lewis has now joined the ranks of the great classics like Rider Haggard, Conan Doyle, H.G. Wells and Robert Louis Stevenson, and is recommended reading for S.C. English.

Third Formers, why not join us next year?

P.J.R.F.

Y.F.C. REPORT

Again this year the Y.F.C. became the best-supported and most enthusiastic club in the school having a membership of 72 - approx. a quarter of the school roll. Perhaps it was no real surprise that Wesley became regional champions in almost everything we entered.

Last year, the Y.F.C. donated a trophy for soccer to be competed for between the winning house and the club. Last year, Winstone house defeated us, 3 - 1 in a hard fought. This year, we suffered the same fate.

It became obvious early in the year that all functions held at Wesley were being well supported. Although we would like to think it was our own charm that did this, we think it was mainly due to Mrs Appleby's cooking which brought flocks of young farmers to the College. The Y.F.C. would like to thank Mrs Appleby and the kitchen staff for preparing the many suppers we have had.

Recently we sent 2 teams to a seven-a-side rugby tournament at Onewhero. Our A team was lucky enough to go through unbeaten and to become the regional champions while the B team finished 3rd.

On the cultural side, we entered 2 teams in the J.F.C. Junior grade debating competition. Our A team consisting of Sashi Singh, Stuart Randell and Lloyd Booth won the regional championship by beating Patamahoe. The B team comprising Arnold Reedy, Wayne Hunapo, Graeme Graeme Watene and Paul Rangi finished 4th.

POLYNESIAN CLUB REPORT

The year for the club started off on the right foot. At the first meeting the club consisted of twenty-two members and now consists over 40 members. We got off to good practices during the following weeks.

On the 14th February our first trip out together was to the Papakura Prince Edward Park. Although we were running a bit late, we still made it in time to perform. First of all we welcomed the official party on to the pitch with a wero delivered by Anthony Tūmai, and some peruperu performed by all. The occasion was of course the opening of the only international standard ball park in South Auckland.

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

Equipment and reference material were added to during the year. These included the Canterbury Maths Association Competition booklets covering forms 1 to 4 which help stimulate team work in Mathematics and give a welcome change to the normal routine. Several new calculators were provided for Form 7 work, providing various fancy functions and also able to work in fractions.

Mr J. Hall is now a member of the National Consultative Committee on Mathematics and has brought back much information and many ideas from Wellington. Readers can rest assured that the Department of Education is steadily overhauling all aspects of Mathematics at primary, secondary and tertiary levels and that any misgivings on the modern teaching of Mathematics should be allayed in the near future.

After many years with the Mathematics Department, Mr E. Meikle is taking a years leave of absence to travel. We shall miss him as much

MANAKAU MUSIC FESTIVAL

Some 30 boys from Wesley took part this Monday and Tuesday in a choir of over 200 drawn from most secondary schools between Mangere & Otahuhu in the North and Tuakau and Waiuku in the South. As a speaker at Papatoetoe said on Monday night, in Term 1 there are three big inter-school functions - Athletics, Swimming, and this Festival, which differed from the other two in that participants met in co-operation rather than in competition. However, most of the schools produced individual items as well as taking part in the massed items. There was also a combined orchestra of over 100 performing.

The song "Old Winter's Wind" made a firm opening, perhaps reflecting the recent weather. Two negro songs - the spiritual "Goin' to Heaven Anyhow" and the minstrel song "Kentucky Babe" produced the best singing of the evening. Least successful were the religious songs accompanied by the massed orchestra - "Jerusalem" being set too high, and "Praise Ye the Lord". Several N.Z. songs were featured, the best being "Aotearoa". Items from schools varied: a good girl's choir from Papatoetoe, a Herb Albert group from James Cook, Polynesian groups from Mangere and Tuakau, and a band from Waiuku being among the best. Extra-curricula activities between the various schools were well supported, the best Wesley performers being Stewart Randell, Galo Galo and Tony Wellington, in co-operation with Denise, Heather and Christine respectively.

All in all, the best in 4 years.

CONTACTS WITH "LA FRANCE AUSTRALE"

During the last two or three years, the links between Wesley College and the French-speaking world have been tightened by a number of first-hand contacts with New Caledonia.

In the year 1975, three fifth-formers went to the capital city of Noumea for a week and, a year later, a larger group comprising both fourth and fifth formers repeated the experiment. On arrival at Tontouta Airport, this latter group immediately became celebrities when they were photographed by the local newspaper "France Australe". Highlights of the week were the hospitality extended us by two French families, and a visit we paid to a French private school rather similar to Wesley. One legacy of the visit was the fact that one French boy came to Wesley in February 1977 and stayed with us for a month - his name Olivier Roumier, the son of a gendarme from Nantes.

This year, the "Entente Cordiale" hopes to embark on a new phase when two pioneers, Clive Haliday and David Scarborough, intend to spend a month as guests of a French family and to reciprocate by entertaining their Caledonian counterparts over here - all this for little more than the price of the return air-fare.

So, French students, save up your dollars for a holiday in a really strange and exotic world.

ROWING

This is a new and popular sport at the College. Unfortunately it usually suffers from the earlier and earlier starting times of winter sport or is disrupted by mid-term breaks so that much of our newly acquired strength and skill is often unlearned.

Again, thanks must go to the Mercer Rowing Club who so generously allow us the full use of their facilities and to Mr Sargent whose patience must have been strained to the limit on many occasions.

Performance-wise, our Senior A team of Reno Wijnstok, Kevin Storey, Wayne Parlevliet and Ian Thompson gained a respectable 3rd in competitions held on the Waikato River earlier in the year.

Rowing is a growing sport within the school and I hope that in future years members will listen to and take heed of Brother Terence whose enthusiasm for and knowledge of the sport, appear to be unlimited.

BOXING CLUB

The boxing club has increased in numbers considerably since it started half-way through 1976. Younger boys are showing great enthusiasm for this relatively new sport in the school.

Over the year we have had the opportunity to send the keenest boys to Boystown, Auckland, and also to the Glenora boxing club. During these two worthwhile visits, many of us learned of new techniques and ideas from the more experienced boxers from these clubs.

Our appreciation and thanks go to Mr Sargent and Mr Silva for giving us regular practice and training. For his support and for making it possible for us to acquire more equipment, thanks are due also to Mr McDougall.

FORM 7 REPORT

What at first appeared to be a reasonable number of 7th formers soon dwindled to a meagre, though elite four. Small numbers have distinct advantages: for one thing it means that each student is able to receive more individual attention.

This year's form had no real "brains" in the class of previous years' Scholarship candidates, but it couldn't be said that we lacked basic intelligence, enthusiasm or initiative. In our ranks we were privileged to have Mike Dolbear and probably one of the best natural athletes the school has produced and the likely winner of the coveted Dux Lundorum Trophy.

5GA CLASS REPORT

1977 has been a generally good year for 5GA. The class roll numbered 28 in the beginning of the year and has been kept throughout although there were some considerable changes.

The class can only be labelled "generally good" in the academic field but in view of sports, this class is amongst the best represented in the whole school. We had 4 members playing for the 1st XV, 1 for the 1st XI soccer, 2 for the 1st XI hockey, 2 for the 1st XI cricket and 5 for the school athletics team. The other members of the class have also actively participated in other activities and school sports.

The class has a school prefect and also 5 dormitory prefects which indicates the reliability and responsibility placed on some of the class members. The class is generally good in behaviour and are willing to try hard academically, except for the few who could do more themselves to keep up with the rest.

The good leadership displayed by W. Royal (Class Capt.) and D. Karanga (V.Capt.) has helped a lot in keeping the class well disciplined and maintaining morale. The form teacher Mr Burt has also played a vital role in the running and maintenance of the class.

I think it would be a bit unfair to compliment individual members so therefore the whole class should be praised for their co-operation throughout the course of the year 1977!!

3P REPORT

S. Aleamotua

3P started the year with a good attitude to work and a good class spirit. This was maintained through the first term but as the year progressed and the form became more accustomed to secondary education, we became more daring.

While not known for our academic brilliance, 3P did produce many very talented sports men. The best of them included Peter Ropata, Murray Barclay, Nicky Downs and Jack Hill who left Wesley at the end of the 2nd term.

As form captain, I would like to thank Mr Cheeseman, our form teacher. His efforts to straighten us out, although not completely successful, did have some effect.

STORM

Take some paper, paint it grey
 Add some grass, trees then stay
 A while longer, then you might
 With brush so fine, coloured white
 Streak a flash across the night.
 Wait a minute, listen for
 From the heavens, a tremendous roar
 Then from above, water is pouring
 And so completes this lovely drawing.

by "Un Autre"

I, Bob James of Paerata, was wandering a few years ago in the wooded upland region which lies between the Thine Valley and France - stretching across Luxembourg - when I sat down to rest beside a stream. I was just quoting to my self those haunting lines of De la Mare's about England,

"No lovelier hills than thine
Have laid my tired eyes to rest,"

and wondering whether the poet would have changed his mind if he had been to the Ardennes before he wrote them, when I suddenly espied a boat. It was tethered close to the bank.

Driven by curiosity, I waded out to it, unloosed the mooring and took the oars. The current in midstream was flowing faster than I expected because, with almost frightening rapidity, I was borne round the headland which formed the backdrop to the scene. The next moment, I was being carried on a liquid belt into the gloom of one of those limestone caves which, I now recalled, were a feature of the district.

The purpose of the torch which lay in the bows became apparent and, with its aid, I managed to control something of the panic which would otherwise have seized me; and it was with excitement rather than terror that I beheld the wanderings of the watery maze uncoil within the beam of light. What a wonderland it was! - full of grotesque shapes, with here and there glimpses of intriguing tunnels which opened right and left. On one occasion, I had to duck my head pretty smartly to avoid being struck by a stalactite which hung like an icicle of stone in the Stygian darkness.

How long I was in threading this underground labyrinth, I do not know, but, when the boat shot into the sunshine, I had lost all sense of direction, and was as giddy as if my eyes had been bandaged and I had been spun round and round at the beginning of Blind Man's Buff. All I knew was that the stream was fast approaching a slow and stately river.

It was there I met the river-man. He was seated on a landing-stage near the point where waters met, a swarthy stocky fellow, wearing some kind of blue uniform, and he was smoking a pipe. He hailed me in French. It was this which surprised me more than anything. I had begun my journey early in the morning in a German-speaking area and had met nothing but that language and the Luxembourg patois. I was not aware of having travelled sufficiently westward to have entered France.

"Vous êtes entré en Wallonie", he said, as if anticipating my question. "You have entered Wallonia, the French-speaking area of southern Belgium. The mighty river on which you now find yourself is the Meuse. It flows from the interior of France. As it leaves la patrie and crosses this neighbouring country, it carries with it the spirit and the culture of the land which gave it birth. Whatever shores its waters lave, there you will find the language of France is spoken and the genius of France is honoured. Cast your eyes downstream," he said, "and you will see the towers of Dinant, the castle of Namur and steeples of Liège. If you engage me as your boatman, I will take you to a region of the spirit which is different from any other you have so far visited."

He was as good as his word. The following day, we arrived at a wharf below Liège, and, after a day's sightseeing in which I was enchanted by the older parts of that great French city, I went to a performance of Phèdre staged by the Théâtre National Belge. For the first time, I was able to listen to this famous French play and enjoy every word spoken, a fact I attribute to the slower speaking rate of Belgian actors. I was only when I came to the famous line that I remembered this was the work in which Racine had given expression to his own predestinarian view of life. Under the guise of a story drawn from Greek mythology about a woman hopelessly enamoured of her step-son, he was saying all men are carried through life by forces over which they have limited control. If I had seen Athalie, his later - Hebrew - play (which Voltaire called "the glory of France"), I might have predicted the outcome of my strange adventure.

C'est Venus toute entière à sa proie attachée

As it was, I was totally unprepared for the next turn of Fortune's wheel. When I arrived back at the jetty at the appointed hour, my alarm may be imagined when, at first, I found no trace of the boatman. During my absence, a large ship had drawn up at the berth; and my own little boat was being hoisted on board between the davits as if this were the place it normally occupied! When the operation was complete, the boatman immediately appeared from nowhere and invited me aboard. The Meuse, he explained, was an even greater river than he had at first suggested, and bore on its lower reaches big ships which sailed the oceans of the world.

During the next day or so, we inched our way downstream and out through waterways and channels in the wake of a grimy steam tug-boat - like the gaunt-masted "Fighting Téméraire" in Turner's famous picture. But, once we were upon the ocean, a change overtook our vessel. Disdaining the coasts of Europe, she stretched forth her sails like the wings of a great white sea-bird; and we skimmed across the waves.

"The fair breeze blew, the good ship flew
The furrow followed free."

Neptune's great empire shrank and, in seemingly less time than it had taken to thread the tortuous estuary, we had crossed vast seas to other climes, and found ourselves again within the enclosing arms of another broad-brimmed river. We anchored under a "fairy-tale" castle with snow-laden roof and pointed turrets - from which flew a blue flag with white cross and four white fleurs-de-lys.

"Madame Gagnon vous attend" we were told mysteriously as we boarded a sledge and were pulled by a horse called Charles-Eugène along the banks of a tributary stream into the heart of Québec! During the journey, we learned our hostess's sad story, of how, in her younger days, when she had been Mademoiselle Chapdelaine, there had been three suitors for her hand, and how she had given her heart to one who had died in the deep snow-drifts, having lost his way in the dark forests, coming to see her. Wooed by the two remaining suitors, she had been faced with the choice of wedding the American and living with him among the dazzling lights of the States or marrying Gagnon and staying among her own people. Maria had chosen the latter course and was typical of those who had preserved the language and ethos of France in this remote corner of the world.

It was interesting to meet her - to find her aged but still beautiful, seated by the fire in her log-cabin with the Breton crucifix upon the wall. She was wearing a lace-cap, just as I had expected. She offered me blue-berry pie; but, before I could sample it, I was whisked away by the boatman, as if he were obeying some urgent summons he could not name.

It was a long time before the full oddness of this last development dawned upon me. I was seated in the ship's library at the time. I looked up at the shelves and saw a copy of Maria Chapdelaine among the books, but noticed with a shock of surprise that it was not placed among the historical works but on the FICTION whelves - as, come to think of it, it should have been!

A cold chill came over me, and I felt as a madman must feel in one of those rare moments of lucidity when it dawns upon him that he's usually quite insane. How should I regard a man who told me quite seriously that he had spoken to Miss Muffet or dined with Long John Selver? How would a foreigner feel if he went to England for the first time and were greeted by Britannia - or went to France and were met by Marianne?

I explained by feelings to the courier, but he merely smiled and said: "After all, that's what we are, aren't we? Fictitious characters all of us! Figments of another imagination! Our destinies shaped by forces not of our own making!" Seeing that I looked doubtful and troubled, he continued: "I think you would sympathise with one of our greatest sons", and, returning to the book-shelves, he produced a volume of Pascal's "Pensées" which he opened and thrust before me. I stared, hypnotised by those words which haunt the mind of France in the way that Hamlet's haunt the mind of England -

"En regardant l'univers muet. et l'homme sans lumière, abandonné à lui-même, et comme égaré dans ce recoin de l'univers, sans savoir qui l'y mis, ce qu'il y est venu faire . . ., j'entre en effroi comme un homme qu'on aurait porté endormi dans un île déserte et effroyable, et qui s'éveillerait sans connaître où il est, et sans moyen d'en sortir.

I read the passage slowly, translating it freely aloud as I did so: "When I consider the silent universe and man without light, abandoned to himself in this tiny little corner, not knowing whence he has come nor whither he is going, nor who is the author of his being, I become terrified, as if I had been carried away in my sleep to some dreadful desert island, and should awake not knowing where I was and without any means of escape".

"But the island is not dreadful, and it's certainly not deserted!" said a voice behind me. I turned round to see who was speaking and, as I did so, the ship's cabin and all its furniture began slowly to dissolve in an increasing blaze of light. I was so disturbed by the mental poser which had been set me that it was some time before I could grasp what was happening to my environment.

"It supports fifty human beings besides twenty-five thousand sheep. The pastures are excellent and the native forest beautiful". I rubbed my eyes as the voice continued. "Besides, Dumont D'Urville - if it is D'Urville you are talking about was surely premature in talking about escape. The Astrolabe wasn't wrecked on the island you know. Though I will admit it did lose some of the timbers of its double hull".

Bout, by now, I was fully awake and understood what I had been doing and where I was - talking in my sleep on D'Urville Island in the Marlborough Sounds of New Zealand, at a place overlooking French Pass. The voice was that of Tom Bowman, a fellow member of our reading-party. We were resting near the plaque which commemorates the French navigator who not only discovered the Venus di Milo but made the risky passage in 1826 which proved the isle was no peninsula. The French associations of the place had combined with memories of a walking tour in Europe to produce my reverie.

"Morbleu! It's good to know it was a dream," I said, as I told Tom of my strange experience, so galling to my pride as a self-made man.

It was just as I said this, however, that I noticed the sea-breeze, gaining in strength, was fluttering the pages of a printed publication which lay near the picnic-basket. It was concerned with education, and I caught a tantalising glimpse of a story. It was entitled

D'URVILLE ISLAND

The breeze was tossing the pages, but I saw enough - the big initial letters and the words:

"I, Bob James of Paerata, was wandering a few years ago in the wooded upland region which lies between the Rhine Valley and France - stretching across Luxembourg -"

I stood transfixed as if reading a scripture which contained the deepest secret of my being, and tried to see who was the author. I merely had time to catch the name before another gust of wind more violent than the first blew the book into the ocean and left me repeating with astonishment

SUMMER

Down by the stream, the children play
Running, laughing, fighting all day
With dirty feet, grubby faces
Playing games, kicking traces.
Dead leaves on dry trees
Lacking life - not like these
Laughing, ruddy-faced sailing boats
The first brown leaf drops, floats
Unnoticed to the ground to die then rot
Autumn is here, ready or not.

RUGBY

Fists and boots fly through the air
As bold boys battle both dark and fair
All schools far and all schools near
Come to play us if they dare.

Shouts of glory come from the batter
Whether cheers or jeers, it doesn't matter.
Again more shouts which come from a ruck
He's one of ours - we're out of luck.

He leaves the field with pain - contorted face,
The game proceeds, increases the pace.
15 - 10 is the half-time score
Eyes are downcast - this could mean war.

The game restarts with a hiss and a roar
Both sides hating, battling, more and more.
The whistle sounds its piercing scream
We realise with horror, he's penalized our team!

"Ten yards back" the ref. does shout
The Fullback taps, then kicks it out,
Then, like a crack of lightning from the angry sky
Is the roar to signal our winning try.

SONG OF THE DORMITORY PREFECT

Being a DP is an unenviable job
Everyone thinks you're an arrogant snob
"Set a good example" the housemasters ask little knowing what an impossible task
For after all, I'm human, still a growing lad
How can I judge others and say that they're bad
Giving them fatigues, contracts and detention,
Extra parades where they stand at attention?

If you can resolve the dilemma I'm in,
Become a DP - untainted by sin.

DOPE'S OUT!!

Stop there Dope Man!!

Don't you ever start

For many young people dope is “in”

It's just a teenage heroe's sin

Smoking grass? You're no man!!

You're just another “punk rock” fan,

A kid's game, you'll spoil your name.

Dope's no good so just keep clear

People who smoke it, don't smell air

Don't judge a pusher by his cover, cos' once alone could kill any other

by conning you, his dope or his grass,

could make you a member of the suicide class

So to you who read and use the seed

Burn it man, it's just a weed!!

SHARKS

Sharks

Swiftly sinister

terrorising the sea

Picking on the weak

And then finally, the kill.

WAITING

Mountains

Just standing

Until the day

When they'll be free.

MACE JACKSON COMES TO TOWN

As he drew up to the water trough, he stepped down from his big roan. He drew out of his saddle holster a huge imported Swiss Dochart rifle the butt of which was ornately carved. His sleeping bag and raincoat were neatly rolled and secured to his saddle. Standing next to his horse was a rather short pack-horse laden with furs probably from the North. After the horses had taken their fill of water, he tethered them in front of where I was sitting. I could not see his face because his wide-brimmed hat was down over his face. He approached me with a kind of cat's walk. His clothes were made of 'buckskins'; a red-stained bandanna was knotted loosely around his neck.

Carrying his magnificent rifle up the steps towards me he stopped and flipped me a silver dollar asking me to take his horses to the stables. It was then that I saw his face.

It was a weatherbeaten face, rough, and cracks were hewn into it. He had a rough stubble around his chin. Dark black eyes seemed to drill into me sending a shiver down my spine. Then he smiled revealing broken teeth - he had obviously been in many saloon brawls.

"Go buy yourself a soda pop", he said.

As I jumped up to run past, my fingernail caught his jacket and pulled it open. I turned to unhitch it and it was then that I saw the 2 colt dragoon pistols strung into his pants in the cross-draw position. Only one man in the entire territory of Montana practised that style : Mace Jackson.

Mace Jackson had come to town!

THE CHAMP

Flies like a butterfly
Stings like a bee
That kind of jive
Ain't gonna scare me!
When I get into that ring
I'm gonna do my thing.
It's gonna be Muhammid
who's gonna give the sting.
I know without any doubt what this game is all about.
You get the other guy
Before he puts you out.
Before this fight is done
I know that I'm the one
To put the master to sleep
I'll know that I have won.

VOLCANOES

As the demolishing Volcano heaving with power shot lava and threw gigantic rocks high into the ash-filled air, jelly-like lava rushed down the lifeless mountain shattering a lonely village as it went towards the river. People were astonished while the ground trembled from the exploding mountain. Beautiful lava flowed like burning jelly with a black crust as it cooled down. Rocks and flames were seen from 15 or more miles away. The eruption lasted for days just blasting gases, rocks and lava out of the enormous crater. After a while it died down leaving a totally destroyed village standing amongst its own ruins.

MONDAY NIGHT - INTERMEDIATE DORM

Into the lounge you stagger
Dreading what is to come
Your backside's about to get redder
That is why you are so glum.
The dreaded sound can be heard now
Your time is drawing near
You hear the cry of a wounded sow
Your stomach is gripped with fear.
Now your name is the one called out
Into the middle you go
How did you get into this rout?
You walk out, sober and slow.
Now you slowly bend over
In wait for the terrible pain
The agony makes you more sober
You now have had, the cane.

SCHOOL DAYS

D. Habershon 4P

Bedraggled socks hanging down
Shirt-tails flapping in the breeze
Dirty shoes that make the teachers frown
And such a collection of dirty knees.
Tangled knots of uncombed hair,
some is short but most are long,
some is dark, some is fair,
Behold us all - a motley throng.
Surreptitious cigarettes swiftly smoked
Into packets the butts are poked.
These daily scenes that meet the eye
And cause the masters sadly to sigh
It's all a part of being a boy
It's all a part of being.

TRUTH

The face of Truth is open,
The eyes of Truth are bright
The lips of Truth are ever closed,
The head of Truth is upright.
The breast of Truth stands forward,
The gaze of Truth is straight.
Truth has neither fear nor doubt,
Truth has patience to wait.
The words of Truth are touching,
The voice of Truth is deep
The law of Truth is simple:
All you sow, you reap.
The soul of Truth is flaming,
The heart of Truth is warm,
The mind of Truth is clear and firm through rain and storm.
Facts are only its shadow,
Truth stands above all sin.
Great be the battle of life -
Truth in the end shall win!
Life of Truth is eternal
Immortal is it's past
Power of Truth shall endure
Truth shall hold to the last.

I've never seen an abominable snowman,
I'm hoping not to see one.
I'm also hoping if I do,
It will be a wee one.

VOLCANIC ERUPTION

Trembling with fear and terror, I stood on a howling hill, astonished by the enormous blasting and exploding of cherry red lava.

Jagged rocks and ash lurched out into the colourful exploding sky.

The burning sky was alight with volcanic fireworks.

I was scared but the eruption was such a beautiful sight it transfixed me.

It looked like floating lava masses in the pitch black sky.

A destructive seemingly comet-like stream of lava, shot out and blasted itself out into hundreds of red lights which lightened up the angry mountain.

The lava's overwhelming heat poured itself down the trembling mountain side, like a steaming river.

My body was shaking and I felt as if I was swaying like a tree just before it falls. Slowly the destructive volcanic terror, quietened down and the world was at its knees.

SPORTS REPORTS

RUGBY: 1st XV

The team began the season with many new players and we weren't expected to do as well as previous years. But, in fact we excelled as a team with high morale as well as a combination of brute strength and brains enabling us to finish 2nd in the counties competition. We were second behind the strong St. Stephens team which is no disgrace as that team must surely be one of the top 1st XV teams in New Zealand.

As far as the competition went, we had a fairly impressive record - playing 14, winning 10 and losing 4.

The team was lucky enough to have 4 trips away to play Church College, Kings College, St. Kentigern and Te Aute. We had mixed success beating Kings and St. Kentigern 16-0 and 17-13 respectively.

We lost to Church College 10-3 and after travelling down to Te Aute, we played the next day but were still too travel-weary to play up to our best form and so lost 7-4 in a hard-fought game. However, the team as well as the staff enjoyed the trip tremendously and we are looking forward to the return visit next year.

Perhaps the most satisfying of the non-competition games was our win against St. Kentigern - our 1st win in 4 years. Prior to that we demolished the St. Pauls Collegiate team which came to us from Hamilton with a big reputation.

The highlight of the season which put jealousy into the hearts of all other school teams was our curtain-raiser match on Eden Park playing Hato Petera before the Lions - N.Z. Maoris game. Although we lost 20-17, we played well and it was obvious that the skills shown by both teams were much appreciated by the vast crowd. After the match we were met by Mr Ron Don, chairman of the A.R.F.U. who commended both sides on their play and sportsmanship.

The team would like to congratulate the following players for gaining representative honours:

Willie Royal	- Counties Secondary Schools
Lance King	- " " "
Graeme Watene	- " " "

4th GRADE RUGBY

The team started the season with fire and determination with big Norm leading his bunch of merry men to two fine defeats. Then we started to get some professional advice from Graeme Watene - a drop-out from the 1st XV. To add to the team's knowledge Mr Sargent donated a few of his intelligent notions.

Finally after all the theory had been computed, we started to show the other schools what the game of rugby was all about. With our robust forwards we ran over most teams that dared to challenge. Ultimately, we were the runners-up in the 4th grade competition.

The following deserve congratulations for consistently good performances throughout the season.

Mighty - Mike Otare - the man with the deadly fend,

Perpetual - Pete Ropata - the one who kept on going even when the chips were down,

Naughty Norm West of the thousand and one feats of animalism.

Others include Lightning Len King and Monstrous Mark Royal.

On behalf of the team, we would like to thank Mr Sargent and Graeme Watene for the labour that they put into the team.

6th GRADE RUGBY

This season contrasted with previous years in that we actually won some games. This was mainly because we played in our correct grade and not up a grade as did most boys in the team last year. In the games which we did win virtually half of the team contributed to the score showing good team effort in general.

There were many good individual players in the team who contributed greatly to overall success. John Wilson, John Evans, Derek Cheeseman and Ross Whyte were among the more talented footballers.

Towards the end of the season the boys really played as a team to turn in some outstanding results. In one game, we managed to beat the Pukekohe A team 56-6.

Congratulations to John Wilson who was selected for the Counties 6th Grade team. Thank you Mr Reynolds.

CRICKET: 1976-1977 SEASON

1st XI

The team continued to play in the Franklin C Grade competition during the first half of the season. Stephen Tupa'i played some good captains innings, never scoring less than 20 at the crease. However, his bowling lacked the sting of previous seasons. Richard McKinney, the vice captain, continued to keep wicket very well but lacked the concentration to ever get beyond the tens in his time at the wicket as opening batsman. Peter Habershon only got into stride once as an opener, scoring a fine 73. His slow, well flighted, bowling showed good improvement as the season progressed. T. Hala'api'api, Kenny Hiriwani, Brett Houston and Bruce McLean showed good bowling talent and some good batting at times along with Edward Kay and Brent Allan.

Of the five matches played, three were won and one lost, all on the first innings, and one was drawn.

Match Results were:

- V Papakura H.S. 102 for 6, Wesley 124 for 8 - Match drawn
- V Pukekohe H.S. 78, Wesley 197 - 1st innings win to Wesley
- V Rosehill College 66, Wesley 98 - 1st innings win to Wesley
- V Waiuku College 59, 74 for 3, Wesley 98, 53 for 1
1st innings win to Wesley
- V St. Stephens School 94 for 4, Wesley 89.
1st innings win to St. Stephens.

Four of the team were selected to play in the Franklin Senior Secondary Representative side at the Northern Districts Tournament in Tokoroa: S. Tupa'i captained the side including R. McKinney, P. Habershon and B. McLean. Franklin had little success at the Tournament, but the experience was well worth the trip and coaching from both Ken Taylor and Martin Horton who during the season helped in the improvement of the players.

In the second half of the season the team was captained by Bruce McLean whose bowling of slow spins continued to reap wickets: however his batting was only beginning to show good form at the end of the season. Brett Houston concentrated well with his batting and turned in some good medium bowling. Talanoa Hala'api'api and Graeme Raymond also showed a lot of natural talent and improvement.

5 games were played in the Franklin C Grade competition:

- V. Rosehill College 38 and 59, Wesley 137 for 8
An outright win to Wesley
- V. Pukekohe H.S. 196 for 8, Wesley 107 and 46 for 6

12 matches were played over the season. 5 were won, 2 drawn and 5 lost. The team showed individual talent but was inconsistent in attitude and application. The 2nd XI finished 3rd in the Franklin D Grade competition and steadily improved. Graeme Raymond and Peter Harpur captained the side.

SOCCKER NOTES

Once again we fielded two teams. Grading games prior to the start of the season saw the 1st XI enter Grade A and the 2nd XI enter Grade B of the Manukau Secondary Schools Soccer League. Each team found the going much harder than in previous seasons, competing against the top teams in the area. However, good spirit and keen competition had its rewards. The 1st XI won some very hard-earned points, and it is a pleasure to record that Warwick Jonasen's 2nd XI were awarded the Nern Trophy for the most sporting team not awarded another trophy in any division.

SOUTH AUCKLAND SECONDARY SCHOOLS TABLE TENNIS

On Sunday 12th June, the Wesley Table Tennis teams took part in the S.A.S.S. table tennis tournament at a new venue - the Community Hall in Papakura. Being a relatively new building, the facilities for our players were superior to anything we have experienced before.

We entered 3 teams - Senior, Intermediate and Junior and our competition consisted of a total of 17 teams drawn from other south Auckland schools.

Our senior and intermediate teams did extremely well and each finished second in their sections. The final games played by our senior team against the Manurewa 1 team give scores which indicate the close margins.

G. Watene	Lost	21-18	A. Croydon	Lost	21-15
		21-15			21-18
S. Singh	Lost	21-17	T. Hala'api'api	Lost	21-19
		21-15		Won	21-18
				Lost	21-18

An outstanding player in the intermediate team was Len King who did not concede a match throughout the day.

Wesley's Juniors got off to a good start by winning their first match against Papatoetoe and worked their way through to the semi-finals only to be just edged out by Manurewa 2. All the players did very well and thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Our Junior team was placed 3rd in its group.

1st XI HOCKEY

This year our team again stayed in the Franklin B Grade Men's Competition. The team could have been a good one, but lack of practice and the lack-a-daisical attitude taken by some of the players resulted in an uneven standard. When we "got it together" we could easily overpower most opponents, but this happened very rarely. F Poor positional play and poor passing led to some heavy defeats.

Even so, we had four players chosen to represent Franklin in games against Rodney; A. Croydon and T. Lane in the High School A Grade, and S. Burnett and D. Enright in the under 14's. These four were some of the most consistent players during the season. Others were M. Smith, P. Montgomery and G. Brunton. Thanks are due to Mr Burnett for coaching and support.

Most of the team is returning in 1978, so next year we should see an improved team spirit, as well as greater maturity. The projected Australian tour will provide further incentive.

HIGH SCHOOL A HOCKEY

The team was much the same as last year, the new players being M. Lewis (most valuable in goal), R. Sides (very reliable centre-forward), K. Paul (a competent back) and P. Chhiba. The other teams in our competition were Waiuku A and B, Pukekohe B, and Wesley B. We won three games and lost three, thus coming third in the competition, but did not beat either Pukekohe B or Waiuku A. But the team found the season enjoyable considering that orderly practices and team play were very rare!

HIGH SCHOOL B HOCKEY

The team made a good effort this year, the first time for several years we have fielded a High School B Team. Though outclassed by older and more experienced players, and discouraged by losses, our many first year players progressed well during the season. The disappointing results did not unduly worry the team, and high spirits were maintained. Most consistent players were I Bell (captain), B. Latu (vice captain), G. Glendenning (goalkeeper), L. Eveleigh and W. Horton. Most improved players were R. Wright and P. Scarborough. The team is to be commended on their efforts to improve the style of play. We wish to thank Mr Chessum who coached us for the season.

JUNIOR HOCKEY

The team made a good start considering that while a few players were experienced, on the whole they were new to the game. Some of the first year players improved well with the coaching of Mrs Johnston, and later Mr McKenzie. The hard going did not worry the team. We now laugh at the experience of getting changed in the rain under an open shelter.

Over the season the most improved players were M. Dodds (wing) and R. McKinven (goalie). R. McKinven and K. Jonasen were selected to represent Franklin in the Hatch Cup games at Christchurch during August, a great honour for them and us.

We wish to thank all who helped the team, especially our coaches.

CROSS COUNTRY

The general standard of fitness was better in all grades this year. In the Minors, 28 qualified (1976 - 21) while last years winner would have been only 3rd this year. In the Juniors, 21 qualified (1976 - 16) while last years winner would again have been only 3rd this year.

Intermediate qualifiers 25, (1976 - 19) and Senior qualifiers 18, (1976 - 10). In both the intermediate and senior grades, last years winners would have placed only 4th this year.

MANAKAU SECONDARY SCHOOLS ATHLETICS

The tone of this meeting was set for Wesley in the very first event of the day when Michael Dolbear raced to a win in the first heat of the senior boys 110m hurdles. The day continued with some minor disappointments and several close 4th placings but also some very good performances by our athletes who enjoyed one of the best days for some years in this class of competition. During the day Michael Dolbear (200m), Philip Barclay (800m) and Anthony Hale (800 & 1500m) completed their events inside the College record time. No doubt the often very vocal support from our spectators contributed to the success of our athletes.

5000m CHAMPIONSHIP

After a reasonably slow first four laps the pace was increased by the leading bunch of runners and the field was soon spread over 200m. Some exciting racing was seen over the last few laps.

Philip Barclay made no race of it over the final lap and was a clear-cut winner but there was some very close finishing in the minor places. Philip's time was 8 sec. faster than his last year's winning time.

TENNIS

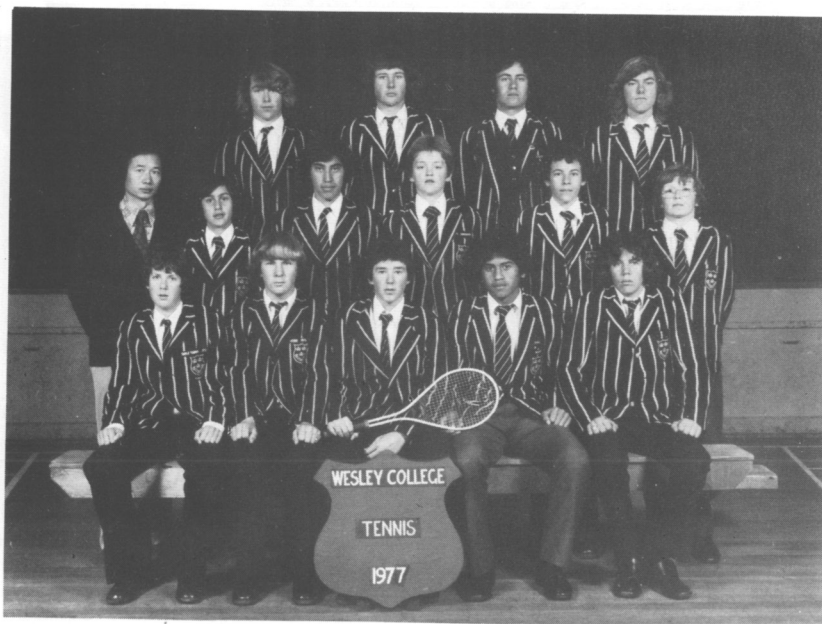

The standard of tennis this year is much higher than it has been for a long time. This is borne out by the fact that our 3 representative teams achieved their best ever placings in the Manukau Secondary Schools Tournament held in March. The best individual performances were:

Murray Barclay's reaching the semi-finals in the Junior Singles, and Howard Morrison and Donald Raine's reaching the semi-finals in the intermediate doubles.

Peter Repata (junior singles), Andrew Ryan and Russell Dolbear (intermediate singles) and Alistair Croydon (senior singles) all played well, winning between 1 to 3 matches to reach the quarter-finals of their respective grades. Considering the extremely high standard of South Auckland's secondary school tennis, our players can look back on their performances with pride.

On the local scene, we entered 2 junior teams to play in the newly created Franklin Boys grade - a much needed stimulus to improve standards. Our sincere thanks to Mr Ross Pulman and the other Franklin Tennis administrators who made the competition possible.

The 1978 season looks to be an enjoyable and successful one for tennis players. We look forward to continuing progress from our more promising juniors Barclay, Valler, Ranginui, Ropata and Evans.
